Rolling start from 9pm

Food stop at Cheddar (56.7km)
Hot drinks, cakes and snacks

Food stop at Neroche Hall (105.7km)
Hot food, hot drinks

Finish at Harbour View Café, The Esplanade,
Exmouth. The Café will be open from 6am.

Distances are in km. They probably won't tally exactly with your computer/GPS/piece of string but they will give you a good idea how close the next instruction is, which is more useful. Because it's summer, people may well have their windows open. Please try to be quiet – we have had complaints in the past and it's not nice being woken up by a bunch of cyclists swearing as they grunt up a hill!

The ride is unsupported and it's a condition of participation that you accept responsibility for your own safety and recovery should you be unable to complete the ride. This isn't a race or sportive, it's a turn-up-and-go ride on public roads. There's no broom wagon to pick you up, and it's essential to carry a basic toolkit and familiarise yourself with simple repairs such as mending a puncture. If you break down, you should expect help from fellow riders. If you spot someone in trouble, we expect you to help them if you can.

If your legs really have given up the most obvious bail-out point is Taunton, after about 60 miles. We pass within 8 miles of the train station, and within 6 miles of the services at Taunton Deane on the M5 (accessible from a back road). You could hang out there until your put-upon spouse/partner/friend shows up.

Please make a donation at the stops – that's what keeps the ride going.
